RECOMMENDATION

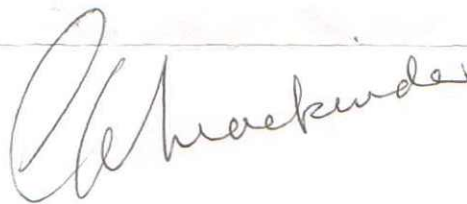

Mark Hamilton and Anthony O'Neil of 'Elements Bathrooms', Peffermill Industrial Estate, Edinburgh installed new bathroom furniture (which I had purchased separately) at the above address during Sep 10. This comprised: a walk-in shower, wash hand basin and WC with other associated items.

The work involved: removing the old bath; other furniture and tiling; preparing the walls for boarding (in preference to tiles); joinery to form an alcove for the walk-in shower, the accommodation of the concealed WC cistern, and for wall mounting the WC and wash hand basin; and other incidental work. They called in the appropriate tradesmen for the ancillary electrical and flooring work. They designed the installation taking my wishes in to account.

Mark Hamilton and Anthony O'Neil and the other workmen were methodical and careful tradesmen and impressed me with their skill, precision and craftsmanship. Their work has a high standard of finish. Some noise was inevitable but they were otherwise quiet and clean; taking care to lay protective floor coverings and to clean up thoroughly after themselves each day. They removed all debris after the work was completed. They were cooperative and helpful throughout. The completed job is a credit to them.

Their charges were reasonable.

I cannot recommend 'Elements Bathrooms' too highly and will be happy to show their completed work to anyone.
